

Sponsorship Opportunity!

I know it's early yet – given that we haven't gone to Gold Coast for the 2009 World Transplant Games yet – but I would like to make people aware of a sponsorship opportunity for 2010.

As you know, we are hosting the European Transplant & Dialysis Games from August 8th-15th next year.

This will be a huge event for Ireland, and a major boost for all involved in transplant and dialysis sports in the country.

Would you like to be a sponsor – or do you know someone who would?

The official launch will take place on Saturday, October 17th, from 12noon to 2pm, in the Guinness Storehouse, and representatives from all the participating countries will be in attendance.

Anyone who would like to sponsor can contact me at colin@ika.ie
